

WIN! $68-Gsmrt DJit

February 13, 2023 7:17 PM

HELLO, I have sent emails off to other connected platforms of addresses of google and you. I have just found this avenue, and I hope that finally, justice will be attained.

I write to inform you of unfortunate mistake, where I have incurred a fee that has taken my website away. You see, I downloaded your app which forces people to subscribe first with credit card information collected. Now, a day later, I uninstalled the app, (and changed the credit card information with google play because they have been taking money from me, (and even PayPal gave them my banking information and they took money from my bank account. That is an unrelated issue for google) but it is the reason why you have the wrong credit card information) but a few days later you took the money from me, which has caused a very unfortunate turn for me. I will attach documents showing the purchase, and I am asking (under much pressure with the problem it has caused me, as a beginner entrepreneur,) to please return the money to my Titanium MasterCard: 5165 1101 4070 6562 ex. 11/23, so that I may continue on my endeavours. The email account that I subscribed with, is thundermike28@gmm, Also, something more unfortunate, is that because I changed my credit card information, you guy have told me I need to pay up more as my subscription is no longer valid.. I don't know how this would've happened, but it has, and has taken a turn for worse.

Please look into this and see it in your heart to do the right thing and refund me my money.

Sincerely,
Michael Linton
